

Friends of the Library

Friends support programs and services that bring libraries to life. They raise money and voices to ensure a first-class public library for a community. They are what their name implies: a collection of committed, caring individuals who share a common vision of an outstanding, free public library.

About the group:

- ✓ Book Sales: In the Friends of the Library Bookstore, books are always available during regular library hours. The purchases that our book lovers make provide a steady source of income for the Friends. Customers are invited to browse the shelves, make selections, and pay for purchases at the Main Desk
- ✓ Library Aid: Over the years, numerous contributions have been made to the library - ranging from technology items to Christmas trees to book bags for summer reading programs. There are always ways to support the functions of the library.
- ✓ Economic Progress: Research tells us that public libraries increase the economic value of a community by adding to the capacity to draw businesses, home buyers, tourists, and others to the area. We do our part in making this happen!
